GOING WEST FOR HEALTH
As much as I dislike to "run out" on Editor Lane, who probably needs my services more right now than he will later on when he has had time to "learn the ropes" better in Elba, still my doctor says I need rest more than anything else.

My health is showing gradual improvement, but the doctor prescribes rest to give my ailing heart a chance to catch up with the overstrain it has been enduring for several months.

"My wife also needs a rest, so if both of us improve sufficiently, we plan to go to Española, New Mexico, in about two weeks to visit our daughter, Mrs. Frances Blanch, and family who writes that they have an air-conditioned house and cool room where we can rest to our hearts' content."

We plan to visit relatives at several points in Missouri and Decatur, Ga., on our way home, which will be as soon as we are rested and our health is improved.

I have been connected with "The Elba Clipper" so long, I feel almost like I owned an interest in it, and I am going to do all I can to get "back in harness" as soon as possible. My comparatively short association with Editor Lane has been very pleasant and satisfactory.

ALABAMA NOW
LEADING BEEF
GROWING STATE

MONTGOMERY.—Alabama is now one of the nation's fastest growing beef cattle producing states, Mortimer H. Jordan, Birmingham, President of the Alabama Cattlemen's Association, said in revealing the State now has nearly a million and a quarter head of beef cattle. "Beef cattle," Jordan continued, "is now one of Alabama's major agricultural crops, with cash receipts bringing more than 55 million dollars annually into the State, as compared to only 7½ million dollars in 1940."

14th in Nation
Presently there are 1,175,000 head of beef cattle on Alabama's fine pastures, ranking the State 14th in the nation, 4th in the Southeast and 6th in states east of the Mississippi. There are only 24 other states which boast a total beef cattle count of more than a million head, Jordan added. Alabama's growth in beef cattle production is clearly reflected in the number of stockyards operating within the State. A hundred today compares with only 14 in 1940, and the largest livestock market east of Fort Worth and south of the Ohio River is in Alabama at Montgomery, the Alabama Cattlemen's Association president said.

Ranks 14th.
In breeding herds, cows and heifers two years old and older, Alabama ranks 14th nationally, a fine standing for a state where row crops have so long dominated the agricultural income picture, Jordan believes.

There is a bright future ahead for the cattle industry in Alabama, Jordan predicts, with all the State's natural advantages combining to improve and better balance the entire farm situation and the general overall economic condition in the State.

The Alabama Cattlemen's Association, with an active county association in each of Alabama's 67 counties and with a membership of more than 5,000 is one of the largest State groups in the nation.

Officers, in addition to Jordan, include: J. L. Adams, Dothan, 1st vice-president; Arthur Tommeire, Mobile, 2nd vice-president; Edward Wadsworth, Prattville, treasurer; E. H. "Ham" Wilson, Montgomery, executive secretary.

COUNTY BOARD
ASKED TO PAY FOR INJURIES

The Coffee County Commissioner's Court convened Monday, July 22, in Elba with chairman J. C. English presiding and Commissioners Whitman, Tindol, Brown and Bowden present. The following business was transacted:

Sam or G. S. Kelley came before the Court in the interest of claim for damages he sustained while working for Coffee County in District No. One, which claim had been denied, December, 1942, by the Commissioners' Court.

Attorney J. C. Fleming was instructed to write Mr. Eager, Chief Examiner of Public Accounts, to ascertain whether the claim or any part of it should be legally phased by the present Commissioner's Court.

Two bids were received for piling one from the Coppens Co., the other from T. R. Miller Co. of Brewton.

Resolution was adopted requesting the State Highway Department to transfer the $190,000 or the amount accumulated to the credit of the Coffee County Depository. The Enterprise Banking Co., to be invested in Government Bonds or other securities, in order that the county may draw interest on said funds. Resolution carries the provision that the funds be kept in an amount necessary to pay off said loan which warrants were sold by the county during 1953.

Order voted to borrow $7,500 from the Enterprise Banking Co., at 2½ per cent interest to be used in the Southeast District funds to repay said loan to be obtained from the State Highway Department and the provisions that Commissioner Bowden is to secure contract from the State Highway Department in which the State Highway Department is to pay the Southeast District $8,000 for certain work to be done on the Enterprise-Goodman Highway. Said contract is to be attached to said note with the Enterprise Banking Co.

Order given to request bids on dump truck to be used in District 2.

Suggests Tips For Television Viewing

Since so many people are enjoying television these days, home agent Mamie Matthews, makes the following suggestions about the lights for television viewing. It is a mistake to darken the room for television as for a movie because the television screen is both brighter and smaller than a movie screen. Strong contrast between a bright television tube and dark surrounding areas cause eye strain and fatigue.

We should maintain balanced lighting in the room. This can be done by using lamps to give general lighting. These may be turned to low or medium if they are three-way light bulbs.

We should avoid placing the lamps so that they are reflected from the screen back into our eyes. We could sit in varying positions in the room and check if we can see the lighted lamps reflected on the darkened screen, that some brightness will remain as an annoyance when the set is on. After this check we can rearrange the lamps or the viewing positions to avoid conflicts.

A 15 or 25 watt bulb behind the set lightens the area around the screen, making viewing more comfortable.

Mr. Smith said, however, he paid off the debt in due time, and after making it his home for several years, sold it to his brother-in-law, Olin Winston, who resided there during the remainder of his lifetime and was the home of his widow, Mrs. Daisy Smith Winston, until her death about three years ago.

Mr. Smith said there is none of the best pure heart pine timbers in the old Winston house to be found anywhere, the kind that can't be found nowadays.

And so, Elba will lose another old landmark, to be replaced by a modern office building to keep pace with the Dorsey Trailers' ever expanding building program.

RESTAURANTS GIVEN VOICE

A bill introduced in the State Legislature last week would enlarge the State Publicity and Information Bureau's Advisory Board to include a spokesman for Alabama's restaurant owners and operators.

The Bureau's present Board includes representatives from Alabama motorists, the petroleum industry, the State Chamber of Commerce, the Alabama Press Association, and the State Hotel Association.

NUMBER 3

They Fathered The Steel Industry

William Kelly

Sir Henry Bessemer

Were it not for two inventive geniuses—an American, and an Englishman—the "Steel Age" might not have begun a century ago.

While steel had been made in small quantities since ancient times, the inventions of William Kelly of the United States, and Sir Henry Bessemer of England made it possible to produce large tonnages of steel quickly and economically.

It was Kelly and Bessemer—thousands of miles apart—who developed almost simultaneously the process of blowing air through molten iron to remove certain impurities.

Although the English metallurgist Bessemer was honored by having the steelmaking process named after him, it is generally conceded that William Kelly, a native of Pittsburgh who moved to Kentucky, conceived the idea in 1847.

A good researcher, Kelly was a poor businessman and neglected to patent his process.

Bessemer, who had received his English patent on the process in 1855, applied for and obtained his American patent rights in 1856. As soon as Kelly learned of the Bessemer patents he filed a claim of priority of invention. In 1857 Kelly was granted a patent on the process after demonstrating the priority of his new.

Old Elba Landmark To Be Replaced
By Modern Dorsey Office Building

By C. B. McDowell

The Dorsey Trailers, Inc., management has officially announced that it has purchased from Roger Winston the property located across the street from the Company's present office parking lot.

The two residences, the old Olin Winston home and the present modern home of Roger Winston and family next to the Elba Assembly of God church property, will be sold and moved from the property and the lot.

Walter C. Givhan, also a member of the committee, and others has been given a favorable report by the Senate Finance and Taxation Committee. The measure will go on the Senate calendar July 26, but special action would be necessary to have it passed ahead of scores of other pending bills.

The bill appropriates $250,000 for each of the next two fiscal years for the purchase of necessary chemicals and insecticides, employment of technical help and purchase of equipment for administering the program. Congress already has passed legislation authorizing the U. S. Department of Agriculture to engage in fire ant control work. The program will be a three-way effort against the destructive pest, with farmers, the state and USDA cooperating.

PEANUT GROWERS

Alabama peanut growers will hold a referendum Aug. 17, on a proposal to assess themselves five cents per 100 pounds of their crop to finance a permanent research, sales and promotional program. If approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting, the program will be administered by the Alabama Peanut Producers Association under authority of an act of the present legislature. Much of the Alabama crop of "runner" peanuts now goes into the government loan, while the larger "Virginia type" nuts are virtually taken over by the "gible" trade, sponsors of the promotional campaign said.

Invited activities in Alabama exceeded the 1956-57 record by over nine million trees. The industry planted more trees in Alabama than any other southern state with the exception of Florida and Georgia.

DRIVERS BOOST
SCHOOL, ROAD
PENSION PLANS

Motorists using Alabama's ever expanding and improving highways are this year giving Alabama schools, road building program, and various State pension programs, a record financial boost.

This reflects both Alabama's expanding industrialization, which creates increased business and commercial highway travel, and, the rising tourist and vacation industry within the State. More Alabamians in turn, are buying additional cars for private use, and commercial vehicles for their business operations. Alabama's fine highway system is proving particularly attractive both to industrialists routing business vehicles on long haul or trips, and to vacationers visiting the South.

School Income Up

In the present fiscal year, from Oct. 1, 1956, through June 30 this year, the State sales tax, earmarked for schools has already realized $50,264,105 compared with the $48,190,214 received from this source in the same period during the 1955-56 fiscal year, an increase of 4.75 per cent.

The State tobacco tax shows an increase over the same comparative nine-months period from $7,451,083 (1955-56) to $7,879,679 (1956-57). Tobacco taxes also go to the support of Alabama's public schools.

State gasoline taxes, earmarked for road programs, has already this year jumped to $45,736,645 compared with the $44,376,084 collected between Oct. 1, 1955 and June 30, 1956, a 3 per cent increase.

Lodging Tax Grows

The new State lodgings tax, voted by the 1953 State Legislature, is also growing. This revenue is earmarked for old age pensions. In the first nine months of the 1956-57 fiscal year, this tax produced $327,607. In the first nine months of this financial year, the tax has brought in $372,857.

Though the figures are not yet available, it is confidently expected that income from the State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board will easily attain an all-time record when compiled and published.

The State Pensions and Security Department depends heavily on ABC profits for its programs for old age, dependent children and the disabled.

These sales, gasoline, cigarette, and lodging taxes, and ABC profits are among those most substantially contributed to by the travelling and touring public, and general highway users.

Gains Scored For Hoover Economics

BIRMINGHAM.—Economy-conscious citizens through the South are scoring important gains in their demands for prompt action by Congress on the recommendations of the bipartisan Hoover Commission.

Preston H. Haskell, Jr., Alabama chairman of the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, said today.

"Southern citizens are moving to the forefront in the drive for greater efficiency and economy in the Federal Government," Mr. Haskell declared. "Their active interest has encouraged their Members of Congress to sponsor and support legislation based on significant Hoover Commission proposals. We can be proud of the efforts of these conscientious legislators."

Tourist Industry
Shows Increase

In the first six months of this year, the State Publicity Bureau has already received 65 per cent more tourist inquiries than it received in the whole 12 months of 1956.

State records show that official State advertising was directly responsible for 8,337 inquiries in 1956 from people who had been interested in vacationing, or visiting Alabama.

The chairman called for announcements and other business. The visitors gave a resolution of thanks to the people of the community for their kind hospitality.

The chairman sang a song and Rev. Eddie Johnson dismissed with prayer.

For All In State

"Alabama is so rich in its water resources," said State Conservation Director Bill Drinkard last week, "that if divided up, there would be enough for every man, woman and child in the State to own one-quarter of an acre, and we are willing to share it with new industry and visiting sportsmen from other States and regions."

QUARTER-ACRE WATER

Alabama has a population of about 3,200,000.

INDUSTRIES GROW

State Planning and Industrial Development Director Pless Looney has reported to his Board that "new industries announced in Alabama since Jan. 1, 1956 through June 30, 1957, number 52 new plants representing about $68,618,000 in capital outlay, and providing approximately 7,139 new jobs.

Arab Pioneers in America

known incident in American history. Secretary of War Jefferson Davis, later the President of the Southern Confederacy, approved a plan to experiment with transportation in the arid South-west.

In 1854, a load of 33 camels landed at Indianola, Texas, with Hadji Ali as their caretaker. The camel herd and its master soon were known as "Haji Ali's".

In 1857, the camels were used in the Beale expedition to open a wagon road across Arizona to California. In spite of the proven worth of the camels, the War Department abandoned the experiment and the camels were left on the Arizona Desert to shift for themselves. They survived for many years, creating interest and excitement. Hadji Ali later joined the Army as an Indian scout and when he died in 1902, a memorial to him was raised in Quartz

Farm News and Reports

SCREW-WORM IS SPREADING IN ALABAMA AREAS

AUBURN—The screw-worm army is rapidly building up and spreading northward through the state. Latest estimates show this horde is attacking in the southern two-thirds of the state and leaving a tell-tale trail of damaged livestock as far north as St. Clair County and west to Sumter County.

API Extension Entomologist W. A. Ruffin this week called on every farmer to make an all-out effort to control this insect and prevent the development of a "desperate situation." All animals are attacked by screw-worms. In Lee County, laboratory analyses have shown both hogs and sheep infested with the pest.

API Extension Assistant Livestockman Robert Parquhar said that September is generally the worst screw-worm month. But the present build-up is so rapid that the next few weeks could prove to be the worst this year. And the livestock authority advised farmers to begin checking cattle daily for screw-worms and treat all open cuts and wounds with a

BAMA FARMERS PLAN 45,000 ACRES IN TREES

AUBURN—Tree planters will be hit hard by the state during the fall planting season. Farmers and other landowners will be busy setting out 45,000 acres of trees as they meet the terms of their contracts with the Conservation Commission.

Preparation containing EQ-325. He added that screw-worms have already caused quite a bit of damage.

The worst spreaders of the pest are transit cattle. These may take the screw-worm into unfenced areas, or the screw-worm flies may leave trucks hauling cattle and fly to eggs on animals along the route. Control measures are extremely difficult because the screw-worm attacks wildlife as well as farm animals.

This summer a pilot test is being run in Florida to see if screw-worm eradication is practical. If the test is successful, an all-out regional eradication program may be developed for the South-east, but not this year.

HIGHER PROFITS FOR FARMERS IN 1957 FORECAST

AUBURN—Alabama farmers will find their net income this year four or five percent more than last year. And the increase will stem largely from federal farm programs, since prices, production, and income will run about the same as they did last year.

This is what API Extension Economist Foy Helms saw when he took a mid-year look at business and agriculture this week. But he declared that agriculture is still not getting its share of the country's prosperity now enjoyed by business.

The economist also pointed out that Alabama farmers are not faring quite as well as others. The state's May farm products price index was down two percent from May 1956, but the national price index for the same time was up three percent from May 1956. All important production items except fertilizer have increased in price during the year. The price of cotton is still operating at 82 percent of parity.

The bright spot on Alabama's farm picture centers around hogs, now selling at $30 per hundredweight. However, Helms said that today's hog prices are near their highest for the year. He predicted

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Clayton Grimes, a cooperator of the Wiregrass Soil Conservation District, who lives near Kinston is planning to do some conservation work on his farm this fall. Grimes plans to build a farm pond, do some pasture work and new "W" type outlets. Grimes also made plans to improve his woodlands by girdling some hardwoods. The Soil Conservation Service assisted Mr. Grimes make a conservation farm plan on his farm last week.

Bill Reynolds of near Kinston has planted 11 acres of bahia grass this year. Reynolds is making plans to build a farm pond and also do some drainage work on his farm this summer. Reynolds is co-operating with the Wiregrass Soil Conservation District.

The honoree was Mrs. Charles Nelson, who before her marriage on July 4, was Miss Shirley Taylor. The other hostesses were Mrs. Davis Carpenter, Mrs. Joe Mosley, and Miss Sue Morrow.

A color scheme of green and white was used throughout the house, carried out in arrangements of gladioli, asters and baby's breath. On the coffee table a bride doll was surrounded by miniature packages tied in green and white ribbon.

A small table held the Bride's Book in which the guests registered. A child's umbrella covered in white net and satin ribbon blossoms and greenery, was placed upon the table. In the dining room the same colors were used. The table was covered with a white cutwork cloth and centered with a crystal panel bowl which was encircled with white blossoms and greenery. Drive the car that recorded up to 17% greater fuel savings in a conclusive transcontinental economy test of the three leading low-priced cars—sanctioned and certified by NATA. Running from Los Angeles to New York, Chevy proved that it costs least to operate of all three!

It just goes to prove that Chevy offers more of the important things that make for happier driving. Remarkable pep and handling ease; that kind of road-holding ability usually associated with sports cars; and, to round it off nicely, outstanding economy. Drive one soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

SUMMER FAVORITE

Cotton sports shirts in many different types of fabrics and in a wide variety of styles are masculine favorites for both work and play this summer.

For a week-end, we finally reached the place where the pipeline was being laid. And there we found a very dusty and hard working young man, who was quite surprised to see us.

Andy told us that they worked from five in the morning till eight at night, and that he
